Design Reflection.

The problem with the game was sometimes the turtle was not able to move. I had to recheck, find the problem with the code and fix it by removing syntax errors. My struggle was at first either the turtle was not controllable, or at times it moved on its own and it would leave the users view. The ATL's I used was thinker, social skills.